Tidbits From Teresa

This is a real "thank you" newsletter.

First, thanks to our outgoing President, Barb Ingolia. Barb has put her "heart and soul" into her Presidency these past two years. She has spoken well on the Center's behalf, she has been a great leader for the Senate, and continues to work on new projects that can help the Center. Her dedication and enthusiasm is truly appreciated.

Second, a big thank you to this year's Fashion Show Committee, models and attendees. The committee of Helen Fetsch, Donna Kuhn, and Dorothy MacConnell, planned and implemented the "Fashion Fiesta" that netted the Center a record breaking $3200 in proceeds. This year's models wore fashions from Chico's and they looked gorgeous. The models were Sue Hewett, Mary Lindstrom, Margaret Lundgren, Peg Mistak, Peg Edsey, Vickie Moss, and Elyse Donato.

Third, to the Senior Center Chorus and the newly debuted Uketones for giving us an outstanding performance at our May luncheon. The Senior Center really has the talent!

Fourth, to the 20th Century Club who made the Senior Center one of their beneficiaries from the annual Spring Benefit. We recently received their donation of $3000.

And last, but not least, to the Men's Follies, who have taken their show on the road to appreciative audiences of the Summit of Uptown and the Square Spares Square Dance Group. They are an amazingly talented and entertaining group!

A number of members have asked "Where did the Mystery Tour go?" on May 12. We started at the Mayslake Peabody Estate in Oakbrook, had lunch at the White Chocolate Grill in Naperville and ended at the Naper Settlement in Naperville. It was a great day!

WRITER'S WORKSHOP

LIQUID SOLUTIONS

COFFEE OR TEA? from Rudy Keil

We celebrate the 4th of July as the end of a bloody conflict with Great Britain over tea taxation. Today, we are best of friends. We visit them, and they visit us. Wouldn't it have been easier to drink coffee? Today our politicians, both Republicans and Democrats, are locked in verbal stalemates over most issues. In fact, we have even witnessed the resurgence of a "Tea" Party. Have you ever heard of a coffee battle? No! People just crave ever stronger, more exotic, cups of coffee. From this simple observation, we may conclude that all of the world's problems might be solved if we would just sit down and reasonably chat over a steaming hot cup of coffee. After all, wars are such a tragic waste!

INK from Jerry Warych

My liquid solution is ink. Throughout most of my working life I've used ink on paper to resolve manufacturing problems. At some point it eventually became a way to resolve personal problems. It started simple enough with a schedule for weekend projects. About thirteen years ago I acquired a notebook with a page assigned to each day, and I started using this as a daily journal. After ten years I abandoned that for a regimen of writing three notebook pages a day. These pages are filled with a modest bit of brilliance and more than enough drivel, but from that ink on paper I've been able to grieve, solve and resolve.

OBSERVATIONS ABOUT VARIOUS LIQUIDS

gathered by Renata G.

- A cousin toasted her divorce by stating, "There's no problem that cannot be resolved by a glass of good wine."
- Gene Kelly with an umbrella showed that rain was a good thing, not a spoiler.
- A Bridge Over Troubled Waters by Simon & Garfunkel brings sweet tears.
- Grandmas serving cocoa with butter cookies create good memories.
- And a squirt of WD40 will fix anything.

The next Writer's Workshop meeting is Monday, July 18, 2011, at 11am until Noon in the PRSC Library.

Articles for the August newsletter are due July 1.
